It was originally developed by Hines Interests Limited Partnership in 1982. The mall was modeled after a similar Hines development, the Houston Galleria, which opened in 1970. Both malls have ice rinks and a glass vaulted ceiling modeled after the historic Galleria Vittorio Emanuele II in Milan, Italy. The mall features Banana Republic, The Western Galleria, Macy's, Pottery Barn, Nordstrom, American Girl, Gap and Old Navy as anchor stores. There are more than 200 shops and restaurants, including an ice rink and the Westin Galleria Hotel. The property is owned by an investment consortium advised by UBS Realty Investors LLC, a subsidiary of UBS AG of Zurich, Switzerland, and operated by Trademark Property Co. History In 1982, the mall, originally called Dallas Galleria, was opened, with Marshall Field's anchor stores and Saks Fifth Avenue and the 432-room Westin. In 1985, the mall was expanded and a Macy's location was opened. On September 7, 1985, the mall was the location of WFAA-TV Channel 8's Sump'n Else music stand program 20th Anniversary live reunion special hosted by Ron Chapman and Ralph Baker Jr. with special performances by The Little Group dancers and Kenny and the Kasuals, and was also simulcast live on KVIL. In November 1995, the mall underwent a 75,000 (7,000 m2) expansion. In March 1996, Nordstrom opened as anchor of the mall's new wing. In 1997, Marshall Field sold all of its locations in Texas, including the location in the mall. [3] [3] Fifth Avenue purchased, renovated, and moved its store to a new space in 1999, while the original Saks location in the mall was later converted into a Gap Inc. megastore housing Banana Republic at the first level, Gap on the second level, and Old Navy on the third level. In 2002, Hines Interests sold the mall to UBS Realty Investors LLC of Hartford, Connecticut, for $300 million. [4] In 2003, a major renovation began and the name of the mall was changed to Galleria Dallas. In April 2005, UBS Realty Investors LLC acquired the Westin Galleria Hotel, which is affiliated with the mall, from Hines Interests for $95 million. [5] In April 2009, General Growth Properties, the management company of the mall, declared bankruptcy. In June, Simon Property Group acquired management rights from 1 August. [6] In August 2011, a man committed suicide by jumping from the third floor of the mall and landing on the ice rink. On March 22, 2012, H&M opened on the second floor opposite Saks Fifth Avenue. On June 15, 2013, Saks Incorporated officially closed its Saks Fifth Avenue store in Dallas, which was renovated and replaced by Belk in 2014. [8] In April 2018, the AC Hotel and Residence Inn Dallas opened near the mall. [10] In May 2018, Trademark Property Co. was hired to manage, lease and reschedule the mall. [11] On 23 January 2020, it was announced that Belk would close on 21 March 2020. On June 16, 2020, there was a shooting at the mall, in which one person was injured. From now on, the suspect is at large. Also very popular at early morning Mall Walkers! All the big brands there. A lot of sales and discounts always go on. Forever 21, Belk, Macys, Nordstrom, old navy all there. Also outside the mall there are many large shops such as Bed, Bath & Beyond, Container store etc.it makes your store too !!! ... It has a number of high end stores in it as well as the usual shops found in a shopping mall. Parking is great because there are lots of spaces... but holiday parking is at a premium. There are plenty of shops to shop in. The food court was good. The parking lot always seems to confuse me. Such a great festive place to shop and people watch. Lots of hotels nearby if you don't want the money to stay at the Westin within the mall, but if you do then. So worth getting out of your hotel elevator in this huge spectacle. The ice rink is always the focal point and at Christmas the huge tree is fascinating. Take your whole family it has every store imaginable. Although it is busy it was easy to park thanks to people directing the traffic as they have done it before. Don't stop forever. Great experience again this year as always. Can't wait to come back! ... Date of experience: December 20192 Useful votesHelpful Copyright ©2020 Galleria Dallas All rights reserved.
